1. WELCOME MESSAGE

1.1 Greeting from President of the World Karate Federation

It is my great pleasure to extend a warm welcome to all participants, officials, and fans as we gear up for the much-anticipated 2024 World Cadet, Junior & U21 Championships, set to take place in Venice, Italy, from October 9 to 13.

These championships mark a significant milestone for the world of karate, bringing together young athletes from every corner of the globe. The World Cadet, Junior & U21 Championships are not just a competition; they are a celebration of the next generation of karatekas. Thousands of young athletes will converge in Venice to participate in this massive event, bringing with them a wealth of talent, determination, and a shared love for the sport.

I want to express my sincere gratitude to the Italian Karate Federation for their outstanding efforts and unwavering commitment to hosting this event. The collaboration and cooperation between our international organization and the local hosts is nothing short of exemplary. The FIJLKAM - Italian Federation of Judo, Wrestling under the leadership of President Falcone and the Karate sector under the leadership of Karate sector President Davide Benetello has demonstrated a commendable level of professionalism and dedication in ensuring the success of these championships. The dedication of the entire Italian Federation and the commitment of Karate sector President Davide Benetello reflect the true essence of unity within the global karate community.

As we embark on this thrilling journey in Venice, let us not only celebrate the victories on the tatami but also the friendships forged, the lessons learned, and the experiences gained.

Best of luck to all the participants and organisers and a big “Oss” to all of you Karate fans.

Antonio Espinós
President of the World Karate Federation

1.2 Greeting from President of the Host Italian Federation

It is with great pleasure, extending also my greetings from the Federation that I am honored to preside over, to welcome all those who will take part in the Cadet, Junior and Under21 World Championships which will take place in the city of Venice - Jesolo from 9th to 13th October.

Italy returns to welcome the Great Karate sixteen years after the European Championships in Trieste and it is a great emotion and a great honor for us to have as guests the most prestigious nations in our discipline and the most promising and talented young karatekas on the world scene.

I therefore greet the Athletes, the Technicians, the Officials, the Managers, the Health Staff, the Media Representatives and the public of enthusiasts who will give substance and framework to an event with very high technical contents.

The world event that we are preparing is very important for us as an organizing Federation, but also for the path that led us to create such a high-calibre event in Italy. These Youth World Championship demonstrate the large investments that FIJLKAM has made to ensure excellence in participation.

In fact, the best athletes in the best conditions will be present, selected according to a circuit of excellence which has allowed Italian karate to raise the technical and competitive level even further. But also, in terms of organizational quality, the Organizing Committee has equipped itself with the highest standards to guarantee a performance that lives up to the prestige of the competition itself.

I therefore thank the President of the World Karate Federation Antonio Espinós for the trust he has placed in our Federation in the assignment of this important sporting event. I thank the city authorities who have never failed to give us their support, the civil and military sports authorities, the managers of the Italian sports world who are present here, the Italian federation staff and WKF staff, as well as the Organizing Committee, for the great organizational work carried out with professionalism and participation.

I also want to thank the families and the public who will animate our Venue and also those who will be connected in streaming who, with their involvement and enthusiasm, make it possible for the athletes to live their life with fullness and serenity this sporting journey and for us to enjoy the special atmosphere of this important sporting event.

I sincerely wish those present at this Cadet, Junior and Under21 World Championships to passionately experience the emotions of the exciting competitions and to the athletes, protagonists in the competition, to gather the best successes by competing with determination and fair play.

I conclude by wishing everyone to enjoy this great sporting event, certain that these World Championships will be a special opportunity to talk and make people talk about the sport of Karate in Italy and around the world with respect and passion.

Domenico Falcone
President of the FIJLKAM

2. HOST CITY

2.1 About VENICE

It is an incredible city that you can explore either on foot or by boat and that's made up of 118 islands joined by more than 400 bridges and separated by canals which act as streets.

It is also fascinating for the many art treasures that it holds: churches, palaces, museums, bridges:

we can almost say that the entire city is a unique work of art built throughout centuries that continually faces the difficulties spurred by the lagoon's unstable nature.

Venice is in itself a work of art, an authentic box of art treasures coming from all around the world. Travelling along the Canal Grande on a boat will be an unforgettable experience that will allow you to admire the refined palaces and the wonderful churches. Then there's the heart of Venice, St. Mark's square, one of the most beautiful places in the world with the marvelous Basilica, the Campanile and the Ducal Palace...

The works of art that are kept in the churches and museums, but also the less well-known places that you may come across as you walk between bridges and squares, are incredibly fascinating and full of charm.

When in the fifth century a.C. the barbarians invaded the Po Valley, the people took refuge on the islands of the lagoon. After this episode, about 421 a.C., Venice was founded. The city developed around one of the oldest centres, Rialto, and quickly became a rich merchant harbour, an important link between the west and east markets. At the end of the thirteenth century Marco Polo started to trade with China, though the Serenissima Republic with its institutional system based on the "dogato" was already spreading towards the mainland thus starting centuries of prosperity and of shrewd government. The decline arrived in the sixteenth century when the trade routes to America were moved and begun to favour the Atlantic harbours. In 1797 Napoleon conquered the city and gave it over to Austria; Venice stayed under the Hapsburg rule up to 1866 when it became part of the Italian kingdom.

2.2 About JESOLO

Jesolo was originally a lagoon in which appeared many little isles.

The isle called by the Romans “Equilium” was the biggest one: the ancient group of people who inhabited this area (Paleoveneti) were famous all over the world as horse breeders and the toponym seems indeed to refer to these noble animals. Thanks to the help of Rome, the Paleoveneti managed to chase away the Gaules and, in exchange for protection, they allowed them to settle down peacefully in the modern-day Veneto region.

The Romans colonized these territories, and they built streets, bridges and villages. They introduced their method of land measurement (known as Roman grid) and they made the soil arable by reclaiming swamp areas.

However, the fall of the Roman Empire brought insecurity: the Vikings finally managed to cross the border and invaded the land. The backcountry population found safe shelter into the lagoon and started the foundation of new settlements. In particular Eraclea was founded by the inhabitants of Oderzo on the isle Melidissia and Jesolo on the isle Equilio.

Thanks to its strategic position, Jesolo was at the centre of the North-Adriatic maritime-trade. Protected by the lagoon, the village could spread undisturbed up to become episcopal seat.

Unfortunately, many wars, a tragic flood of the river Sile and the invasion of the Franks provoked the decay of the city flourishing port, that lost the episcopal seat at the beginning of the XII century.

The situation got worse until a patrician man from Venice named Soranzo built at his own expense on a field of family property a new church dedicated to St. John the Baptist, that later became a parish.

People started to move to this area: the new village of Cavazucchina established therefore around the church and the Republic of Venice reclaimed the area in order to move away from the two rivers (Piave and Sile).

Cavazucchina became a city only with Napoleon in 1806. After Napoleon's fall, the Austrian Empire created a land reclamation consortium (Consorzio Passerella) that aimed to improve the swamp areas of the lagoon.

In 1866 Jesolo was annexed to the Italian Reign. However, the situation did not improve and during the 1st World War Cavazucchina was damaged, and people had to flee away.

Peace after the war allowed the village reconstruction. The biggest land reclamation work was realised between 1920-1930: cultivation of wheat, corn, beet, fruit trees and vineyards were introduced. In 1930 the city was denominated with its ancient name, Jesolo, and from 1936 Marina Bassa and Spiaggia took the name of Lido di Jesolo.
